Welcome to Air Command and Staff College (ACSC), the intermediate level of Air Force professional military education (PME). My staff and I are extremely pleased to offer you a challenging course that parallels the resident program and exposes you to many significant theories and concepts that will help you improve your professional performance and enhance your comprehension of the profession of arms. Our primary goal is to help you continue to expand your professional military knowledge and enhance your critical thinking skills.
Our challenge is to provide you with a program that synthesizes both
